INTRO

Since 2017 I have been writing python scripts and building websites. Over the last 2 years I began to take it more seriously and was learning new things everyday. As I learnt more I began applying and eventually I landed my first job as a web developer at Monmia.

- HTML
- CSS/SASS
- Javascript
- Nodejs
- ReactJS
- React Native
- Git
- Python

Everyday I am learning new things and expanding my field of knowledge in programing and developing applications. While strengthening existing skills I look to learn new skills to progress my career. On my website you can see examples of my work.

EXPERIENCE

The Original Factory Shop | Sales Assistant

October 2017 - January 2020

As a sales assistant at the original factory shop I have gained valuable experience in customer service. Providing customers a service in a polite and efficient manner is a vital part of the job. Making sure the store is tidy and full is also important in the role along with handling cash and other payment methods.

Monmia | Web Developer

January 2020 - PRESENT

Monmia was my first time as a developer in a professional environment because of this I Learn new things everyday on ways to improve the way I work alongside with the help of more experienced colleagues. At Monmia my role was to maintain and expand upon an existing React application. Alongside this I dabbled in salesforce and other tools used in a commercial environment.

Chime | Android/IOS Development

PRESENT

More recently I have also been helping out on a react-native project by building out new screens and features giving me experience in mobile development.
